	in a country. The impact of the government's income and expenditure policies is based on the details of how much the gender falls on the gender sensitive budget. A basic feature of this budget process is that it takes some socio-economic issues neglected in the current budget process. For example, the distribution of disparate work of women and their inadequate work contributes to socio-economic areas, how the expenditure of tax revenues and tax revenues affects the poor women and their dependent family members

Status of past & present interventions	Status of past intervention: The total population of Thanchi is over 20,000. Thanchi is characterized by its remoteness, isolation, hill settlements and it has been neglected by public and private development policies. It is located in the Chittagong Hill Tracts (CHT) region, which has experienced 30 years of internal conflict. The CHT is a unique geographical and cultural area of Bangladesh, with a blend of indigenous people [1] and Bengalis [2] who have recently settled here from the plains. The area has been devoid of any significant development intervention for the past three decades and this has resulted in a general deterioration in the quality of life for the people there. The total population of Thanchi is around 20,000 (46% female) with 10% Bengali settlers who migrated mainly from Satkania, Lohagora and Sitakundu Upazilas of Chittagong district. Some people also came from Potuakhali and Barishal districts. Marma, Khumi, Chakma, Tripura, Khiyang, Mro (Murong) and Bom are the indigenous communities living in different villages of Thanchi. Most of the populations are Buddhists followed by Christians, Hindus, and small amount of Muslims. Some people from the ethnic communities also follow animism. The amount of reserve forest is 82080 acres. Plain land in Thanchi is not more than 5%.

As a result of these characteristics, there is a high level of poverty and marginalization. For example, while mortality resulting from water-borne diseases like diarrhoea, cholera has been significantly eliminated from the rest of the country; around 40 boys, girls, men and women have already died in Thanchi in the current year. Major Problems:

- Absence of officials in the government offices. For example doctors in the hospital. Total government administration is inactive in Thanchi.
- Food Crisis. High price of essentials in the market.
- Communications system as whole is very poor and risky. This is one of the main barriers to the development of the area.
- Education (systems, quality and quantity are) very poor.
- Water crisis a major problem.
- Sanitation lack of facilities plus people's behavioral pattern

Now there is a road link from Bandarban district headquarters to Thanchi. In the dry season it takes about 5 hours to drive to Thanchi from the Bandarban district headquarter. But in monsoon it takes more than 7 hours.

Status of present intervention:

A space has been being created for the women and children to enjoy their rights holistically in the community and institution The women are getting opportunity gradually for taking decision in family level Through representing in VDC and reflect circle the women are being empowered and capacitated to raise their voice They are receiving various Rights Based training under the project intervention

The community people especially the people's organizations are now creating linkage and network with different types of service providers and other responsive stakeholders for promoting their rights and entitlement.

The women in the working area are getting training and financial support for promoting IGA and small business by pig rearing home stead gardening goat rearing etc The major issue of the intervention is to ensure the food security of the targeted households which will be resulting in the sustainable development of the community people Different people are given training in the goal of sustainable development of the community Although they do not get three time meals now they get two time meals In line with this aim the project intervention endeavored to facilitate the women to assure their dignified life in community and institutional level.

The women in the working area are getting training and financial support for promoting IGA and small business by pig rearing home stead gardening goat rearing etc The major issue of the intervention is to ensure the food security of the targeted households which will be resulting in the sustainable development of the community people In line with this aim the project intervention endeavored to facilitate the women to assure their dignified life in community and institutional level.

Since the working areas are hilly and remote the crisis of pure drinking water and hygienic sanitation system has been being in alarming stipulation Despite through the project intervention the situation is improving day by day Earlier some GFS were established to address insufficiency of the pure drinking water but these GFSs could not be maintained properly In fact awareness of the community people would be intensified in this respect But nowadays the positive side of this issue is that an effective linkage could be taken place with the GO and other service providers for ensuring the pure drinking water and hygienic sanitation system for the community VDC youth clubs and Women Reflection Action Circles are playing vital role to continue the linkage and network for this purpose Eventually it is to say that about 200 indigenous community members are getting the opportunity for using pure drinking water and hygienic sanitation system The VDCs are going to organize a public hearing in the upcoming time after doing a social audit on the satisfaction level of using safe water in the community.

During the implementation of the recent project two schools have been targeted to ensure at least two core educational objectives of 10 A plan of action has been completed in this plan and based on the plan of action the purpose of this project is to ensure the previous education Right The project is creating a network with press and media to encourage school authorities There is also a plan to jointly plan the project for the participation of rural level groups media SMCs teachers and student council members of community SMC teachers and student councils are regularly exercising 10 educational rights.

The project includes 8 communities including Marma, Bawm Mro, Tripura, Khumi, Chakma and Bangali Muslim and Hindus During this project intervention the children of this community are getting an opportunity to attend school Actually community level awareness is extremely important to get access On the other hand institutional improvement must definitely be here But now the primary education facility is increasing but parental consciousness is needed That is why the project is properly organizing parents awareness and organizing village level members of different levels 10 core rights practicing in selected two primary school at Thanchi upazila.

During the implementation of the project SMC was introduced to take necessary measures to ensure quality education among educational institutions However village based organizations are sensitive to play a role with responsibility for taking initiative for leading about their administrative responsibilities with LGGE Various types of organizations are working to improve the human rights situation the CR situation of the community Then the rate of admission in the project area has increased and the mentor is enrolling their children in the schools The children have been interested in education more than ever before.

In the working area increasing number of the children have completed primary education and admitted to the secondary education The project intervention created a mechanism for reducing the dropout rate through creating awareness amongst the parents with the active role of village level groups Up to the reporting period about 600 children especially girls children have completed primary education and transfer to and continue secondary education.

The project members along with the VDC reflect circle SMC are organizing various meetings with the LG representatives at UP and Upazila level for doing advocacy in order to allocate budget in ADP for local primary education The project team members are playing the role of mentors here The local groups especially SMC are being sensitized and proactive in this issue Initially the project targets 3 unions namely Bolipara Thanchi and Tindu for progressive tax policies and ADP allocation for primary education duly Every year the Union Parishad has allocated budget for quality education for primary schools.

The women of the community through receiving training on IGA and Rights based issue have been empowered to represent themselves as the active actors in family and society Traditionally the women of this area have a vital role in income generating process in family level but control over this income was very limited As they are creating space for family decision making process they are now more active for mobilizing their resources and establishing control over the income They are increasing the negotiating power within the household and community.

	The eight of community members involved in public service and public service to provide public service to the Union Council At present LGIs of the workplace are taking opinions from the people especially VDC leaders and are taking the views of the leaders of the reflections to select the service receivers and involve them in the whole process of distribution Circle members now have their own opinions and decisions in their families. These changes are emerging by creating awareness through meeting mobilization training workshop seminar rally and day observance technical and financial support by AAB and BNKS.
